KIDNEY WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

Dr. E. H. Clark, North Hero, Vt., writes: "The remedy of Kidney Wort which I have used with success, it has cured many cases of kidney trouble, and I never believe it will fail again." Dr. J. M. Parsons, New Haven, Conn., writes, "I have used it for years past, after sixteen years of great suffering from piles and constipation, and am completely cured now." Dr. Berkhart says, "One package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe case of liver and kidney complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER.

Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.
Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develop in Catarrh, Constipation, Rheumatism, Jaundice, Gonorrhea, Nervous Disorders and Female Complaints.

It is made up of pure vegetable matter in the kindest form, so that it can be taken at quarter of twelve, noon or at night without any consideration for those that cannot readily prepare it.

It acts with equal efficiency in either form as it is sold in the DRUGGISTS'. PRICE, 50c per bottle. RICHARDSON & Co., Prop'rs,

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT.

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to satisfy. It was while engaged in his researches, Dr. J. C. Shander, of Uruguay, who has been one of the world's greatest authorities on diseases of the urinary tract, that this discovery has rapidly taken place. The fact is, however, that the evidence of medical men and those who have used it, is so favorable, that it is almost impossible to over introduce has superseded all other treatments. It is a fact, also, that it has cured more cases than all the other remedies combined, and that it is the only recognized remedy recently introduced into general practice.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEY.

The kidneys are the great excretory organs after those that attend mankind, and so varied and insidious are their characteristics, that they may exist for a long time before knowing what ail them. They are the most delicate of our organs, and are the first to go away of the whole body, pain in the back, feeling, loss of appetite and strength, nervousness, irritability, constipation, frequently colored urine, inability to discharge the urine, and finally, dropsy, are the symptoms of the disease. In case of long duration, there is much emaciation, and sometimes nervous prostration.

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without reservation or contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAIN is the first and best cure for all diseases of the kidneys, in every case. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more efficacious than any other treatment; by using faithfully and persistently, it will cure every case, no matter how long it has stood its ground, and it will never fail to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

We have the most universal testimony to its curative powers from many persons, among whom we quote the following, as being of the highest value: "How I feel now," giving the name of the patient, and "How I was saved," giving the name of the doctor, and "What a relief," giving the name of the most remarkable cures." forty years ago these canal boats were thus safely carried over the Allegheny Mountains, that a railway can now be constructed which would be with equal or greater certainty carry the largest vessels? There is in operation at present within a few miles of Washington a railway upon which canal boats, heavily laden with their cargoes, are safely transported up a steep grade from the Potomac river to the canal above.

In the construction of a ship railway, of course the whole work must be on a very large scale. The roadbed must be a solid one, and the machinery of a character consistent with the great weight of the vessels to be transported. I propose to employ,

instead of two rails, not more than 12, and under each car to place a multitude of wheels. In this way pressure upon the wheels would be so distributed that at no point would it equal that imposed by an ordinary first class passenger car. The distribution of the weight that the great vessel afloat can be carried, impose no greater burden upon rail at any given point than that imposed a hundred times a day upon rails of every first class road in country.

The only real difference between the cradle and an ordinary rail is that the former is stationary; this one is placed upon wheels of cradle or dock upon wheels which backed down upon the railway, grade of about one foot in 100, it reaches a sufficient depth of water to enable the vessel to be floated
 it. When the ship is in position will be safely secured over the cradle and then the car will be slowly draw-forward. As the water becomes shallow the vessel will naturally rise to her position upon the cradle; the ports will then be moved up against her hull, while still afloat, so that cannot move, and she will then

"GOLDEN DAYS,"
Pure, Interesting & Instructive

The serious literature of the day is winning the children of our country. As there is no larger cause of checking the flow of this poisonous fountain, every

Parent, Educator & Guardian

is compelled to ask himself the question, "What is the best means of checking the evil?"
The best antidote for bad reading is good reading.

CHILDREN WILL READ

And the duty of those having them in charge is to furnish them with wholesome, entertaining and instructive reading, such as will be given in every number of "GOLDEN DAYS."

"GOLDEN DAYS"
Understands, childhood. It will delight its young friends with sketches of adventure, incidents of travel, wonders of knowledge, histories, stories, puzzles, and everything that boys & girls like. It will not teach children to become runaway thieves, highway men, burglars, and outlaws.
The first number of

"GOLDEN DAYS"
Contains the opening of two splendid stories. The first is by

HARRY CASTLEMAN,
And is called "Two Ways of Reaching a Haunt," and the other is by EDWARD S. ELLIS, and is entitled "Fire, Snow, and Water; or Life in the Loose Land."

"GOLDEN DAYS"
will be greatly valued, and will do its utmost to assist all who have the interest of our youth at heart. We never aim to stimulate curiosity without encouraging industry.

Number one is furnished gratuitously to all. Number four is now ready and for sale by all New England Publishers.

THE CODFISH—A FABLE.

A codfish one day was sailing around in search of some one who might be inclined to dispute, when he came across a clam. That was in the days when codfish put on a heap of airs over the clam tribe, and this particular fish stuck up his nose at that particular clam and began:

"Here you are, grubbing away on this same old sand-bank for a living, while I have journeyed over a thousand miles in the last four weeks."

"I am quite content," replied the clam, "I am rather near sighted, slow on foot, and nature did not intend me to travel far. Neither of us two can make more than a living, and I am satisfied, if you are."

"Yes, but you have such an outlandish shape," sneered the cod—"Why, there's neither head, nor tail, nor legs, nor arms to you. Your eyes

"My eyes are plenty large enough to see that no two fish in the ocean agree," tartly replied the clam, "and seeing this, I have no cause to smile. What you say about my form is true, but I make good chowder, for all that, and I have no bones to trouble the throats of humanity."

"Well, I'm thankful that I wasn't born to begin and end my days in a sand-bank. I go everywhere. I take in all the free lunches. Small fish feed me, and big ones can't catch me. See how I glide around."

At that moment a fish-hook nicely baited dropped down between them.

"Now, if you only had a little more mouth you could get enough at our guild to last you all day," remarked the cod, as he eyed the bait. "As it is, you may stand by and see me take in that baitquet. Just see what luck

He opened his mouth, made a dive for the bait, and was about to wink at the clam with his left eye when he was suddenly pulled out of the water and landed in a boat.

"I think," mused the clam, as he closed his shell, "that it is a great deal nicer to be a clam on a sand-bank than a cod in a fish-bank, but I'll be open to argument next flood time."

To Keep the Blood Pure,

Is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

THE SIXTEENTH
ANNUAL FAIR
OF THE
WEYMOUTH
Agricultural & Industrial Soc.

Thursday, Friday & Saturday,

Sept. 24th and Oct. 1st and 2d, 1880.

"Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after its kind."

The festivities incident to the first day of the annual fair of the W. A.

& I. Society were noted in the previous edition of the GAZETTE, the result of the Freeman's Muster, in which the Gen'l Bates Engine Co. of East Weymouth, carried off the first prize, and of the Glass Ball Shoot, being then given. From this point we proceed to a narration of the incidents of the second day, (Friday), which dawned with a brightness that heralded another day of unalloyed pleasure for those who intended to visit the Fair Grounds.

The committees were actively engaged at an early hour in arranging the articles which had not been received the previous day, and it required much study to so place the numerous contributions that each would have a good position. Mr. S. S.

Spear, Sup't of the hall, had made some changes in the arrangement of the department exhibits, and had relabeled the show of vegetables to the hall at the Grand Stand, thus affording opportunity for better arrangement of the floral display and the fruit exhibit. The tables for these departments extended the entire length of the hall, and the effect produced was very pleasing, while the change made the passages more convenient both for visitors and committees, in their examination of the articles.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

Champion Fear.

Mrs. Joseph Culley, of this village, picked a pear from one of his trees and exhibited it at the fair, that measures 13 1/4 by 14 inches and weighs 25 ounces.

The Bartlett pear raised by Henry F. Cushing, reported in last week's Gazette should have read 11 1/4 by 14 inches of 11 1/2.

Death.

Mrs. Major Cushing died in this village Sept. 27, aged 81 years 8 months 23 days. The deceased had been residing with her niece, Mrs. Abiel Litchfield, for several weeks, and the Sunday previous to her death she visited her son, A. T. Cushing, who lives on Curtis St., saying several times during the day that she never felt better. She returned back to Mrs. Litchfield's at night retired feeling well. Monday morning she said she felt strangely, and very soon was in a cold perspiration. Her daughter, N. H. Thayer, with whom she resided, also Dr. Drake, were sent for. As she wished to return home, and grew worse very fast, a carriage was procured and she was conveyed to her daughter's, but lived only half an hour after being carried into the house.

Mrs. Gilbert Nash gave a continuation of the description of his wife, who she resided, also Dr. Drake, were sent for. As she wished to return home, and grew worse very fast, a carriage was procured and she was conveyed to her daughter's, but lived only half an hour after being carried into the house.

Spending a day at the fair last week, his attention attracted towards a lot of beautiful balloons. He threaded his way through the crowd, and finally reached the object sought for; inquired the price and finding that while holding them he purchased two. Whether he intended to attach them to his person, and make an ascension—thereby giving a free air-ride to himself, or not, nobody knows, as he had given no notice of such a trip; but near his head they both exploded by being in too close proximity to his pipe, burning his face quite seriously. The balloons have not been seen since.

We are called upon once more to mention the death of another respected citizen, Mr. Abiel G. Litchfield, who died last night, Oct. 7, about 12 o'clock. The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Episcopal church, at the usual hour of service.

searthy of Water.

Wells and cisterns are getting short of water, wells here that have never before failed now being dry. Many families are dependent on neighbors for water, and finding that while holding them he purchased two. Whether he intended to attach them to his person, and make an ascension—thereby giving a free air-ride to himself, or not, nobody knows, as he had given no notice of such a trip; but near his head they both exploded by being in too close proximity to his pipe, burning his face quite seriously. The balloons have not been seen since.

On the 23rd.

Wednesday morning, about 6 o'clock, we witnessed one of the greatest flights of swallows that ever came under our observation. They were passing from west to east, lit withering merrily.

Change.

The boat factory formerly occupied by W. R. French was purchased a short time ago by Dea. James Torrey, who has moved it back from the street a short distance, on to his land, and is having it converted into a house. The location is a pleasant one, and the change will add to the appearance of the place.

WYOMOUTH HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The October meeting was held at the Library on Wednesday of the week, the President, Elias Richards, in the chair. Two persons were elected to membership, and two other proposals will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Mr. J. J. Loud made a partial report upon the proposed publication of the Lowell papers. The Corresponding Secretary reported the receipt of letter from Rev. Edwin M. Stone, Librarian of the Rhode Island Historical Society. Providence.

A member reported concerning a field day that was taken some time since to view the location of the first ferry between Braintree and Weymouth. The remains of the ferry house cellar and wall on the Braintree side were visible only a few years ago. It was flowed over by the owner, Mr. Wyman, and the traces of it are now somewhat obliterated.

This ferry was established in 1636, for accommodation of the people of Braintree and other towns, so that they could go to Webb's tide-mill, which was one of the first in this region. The site of this house was on a slight rise of land, up a stream from the well known "Quaker" pond, and the ferry was used for many years. It is called Laxton, in present to the taste, and it is the only place for some distance on the river where so favorable a place for the ford and ferry could be found.

This rise of ground is the only one in the town of Weymouth, which is situated directly back of it through the land of Mr. Wyman, and passing just south of the residence of Mr. Johnson.

Frank A. Lewis, Esq., offered an explanation of the name of "Hickory," a well known locality between North and East Weymouth, usually mentioned in early descriptions and transfers of property. At no distant time it will be published.

SINGING SCHOOL.

MR. H. F. WIGHT, OF BOSTON.

Will commence singing school in this place, for the children of the public schools, on MONDAY, Sept. 28, at 10 o'clock, in the High School Room.

This school is under the management of the local committee of public schools, and is a most desirable opportunity for the children of the public schools, who are desirous of learning to sing.

THE PRICE OF THE SINGING SCHOOL is one cent for each child, and a half for each parent, and a half for each teacher. The price of the singing school is one cent for each child, and a half for each parent, and a half for each teacher.

AN EVENING CLASS, formed of pupils of the high school and of the higher classes in the grammar schools, will be in order, provided that the pupils are desirous of learning to sing. The class will be held on Wednesday evening next, at 7 o'clock, in the High School Room.

Have Webster's Balm of Wild Cherry always at hand. It cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Influenza, Consumption, and all Throat and Lung Complaints. 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

Old People Like It. Rabbits Cry for It. This is the best of all remedies for the aged. It is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged, and is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged.

A Happy Clergyman.

Rev. E. F. L. Gane, of Weymouth, has been a great sufferer from kidney disease, and one that has been cured by the use of Dr. Drake's Kidney and Bladder Pills.

It is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged, and is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged.

How to Make Them so. Keep Them in Health, and They will Take care of the Rest.

The joy of every well-regulated household comes chiefly from the children. Thousands of affectionate parents do not take care of their children. Through ignorance more than through neglect, they suffer from the effects of the disease.

It is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged, and is a most valuable preparation in the treatment of the aged.

ship of Gen. Hancock. This is the sole stock in trade of the soldier-statesman—a question that was settled more than ten years ago, dragged from its grave to act as the political support of a candidate for the Presidency.

And yet, absurd as are the premises, the finger of fate still points to General Order No. 40, as embodying a quiet sarcasm on Democratic success. With the South solid for democracy, with five hundred thousand republican votes disappeared within four years, with fraud at the ballot-box, ignorance, intolerance, intimidation and oppression as ruling elements, it may truly be said that "peace and quiet reigns," but in the South it is the quiet of the grave.

Peace, with the government in the hands of the men who endeavored to destroy it; quiet, with ignorance and illiteracy in power and free speech suppressed. Peace, when the South has no further need to intimidate and assassinate and hide behind masks and cloaks; quiet, when "the principles for which Lee and Jackson fought for four long years" have been secured in the South, and when we have stricken out the last vestige of your legislation from the statute-books; when all this shall have been accomplished, then will it doubtless be the purpose of Gen. Hancock at the head of a peaceable and quiet democracy, to preserve and continue this truly delightful condition of things.

TOWN AND VICINITY.

The Catacombs.

On Sunday evening next, in the Lecture Room of the Union Church, Mr. Frary will give a familiar talk to young people upon the history of the Roman Catacombs, and his impressions on visiting those renowned retreats.

Masonic Visitation.

The D. D. G. M. Edward Avery and suite paid Delta Lodge their annual official visit on Thursday evening last, week. A fine collection was spread, and speeches were made by Hon. Edward Messrs. Bicknell, J. W. Armstrong, Rev. A. Titus and others.

Gen. Grant.

A good number of citizens gathered at the depot yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, to see the Gen. Grant excursion train "whiz" by.

The First Universalist Parish.

Has changed its order of conducting Sabbath service, so as to conform to the order of the Minister's meeting of that denomination. By this means greater uniformity is to be brought about, and the service made of greater benefit to the people. The new order of service went into effect on Sunday last, by a very large vote of the parish.

Autumn Leaves.

Leaves gathered from the trees of our way sides and hills, neatly pressed, make adornments for our family rooms. The maple, the elm, the sumac, etc., afford leaves with a great variety in colors, lending charm and cheerfulness to our homes. It makes pleasant employment for the young to gather beautiful and well-formed foliage for the beautifying of home apartments.

Sunday Services.

Rev. D. P. Livermore will preach to the people of the First Universalist Church on Sunday morning next. Mr. Livermore was formerly pastor of this church, and is held in grateful remembrance by many of the old citizens.

School.

The fifth of the series of discourses now being preached by Rev. P. A. Nordell in the Baptist church, was heard last Sunday afternoon with much interest by a large congregation. The subject "School," gave opportunity to speak of its importance to a republican government. The advantages of education are a knowledge which is power, freedom from unjust oppression, and the power of superstition. The acquisition of learning demands thoroughness and accuracy in all work; perseverance, and memory. An enlightened and cultured mind is a possession in the reach of any man who will work for it. No one can be a successful teacher who has not a full and loving interest in the work; high and worthy aims as before teachers and pupils. The teacher should be an earnest student of all that recourses to the whole of life on earth, a preparation for a larger and immortal life hereafter.

The subject announced for next Sabbath afternoon is "Habits."

Wells and Cisterns.

The season has passed with only a little rain. In consequence the wells and cisterns are suffering, and families are discommoded very much by bringing water from a distance. Those families which have a plenty of water may rest assured that their wells are a fortune to them. Notably so may we mention our well in Washington Square, which has been recently supplied with a new pump. It is used constantly at all hours of the day and night, by man and beast, and yet no signs of failure appear. It furnishes water for a score or more of families.

Stockholders' Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society at Music Hall, South Weymouth, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19th, at 7½ o'clock. As this is the meeting for the choice of officers for the ensuing year, it is important that the whole town, as well as the other towns having stockholders, may be represented on the board of Directors. Much of the welfare and success of the society depends upon the action of this meeting; matters of great importance may come up, and it is of vital moment that all should be present.

Postponed.

The main audience-room of the Baptist church, after undergoing such repairs and alterations as already spoken of, will be opened for public worship next Sunday. The church have made special preparations for this event. In the morning the pastor will preach an appropriate sermon, and in the afternoon the sixth of his series on "Human Life." It is expected the services will be interesting, and all who can come are invited.

Political Demonstrations.

Are rare in this community, but it is expected that the fire will soon begin to burn, and the blue light and smoking torch shed lustre on the evening sky.

Parties who have not supplied themselves with apples for this fall and winter can do so at low rates. With the best of apples at $1.25 per barrel all families can be well supplied. The apple harvest is very large this year in all sections of the land, and many farmers consider themselves fortunate if they can find parties who will buy the apples at these low rates. The time is coming when factories for the drying and evaporating of apples and other fruits will be established in this and neighboring towns, that the abundant crops of the orchards may be made of greater profit. The exportation of fruits to other countries is assuming proportions little thought of by the early fruit growers of our country.

Woods Plants.

Now is the time, before severe frosts come, to remove to the house the plants which have been in the garden during the summer. House plants are in every home, and engage a large share of the attention of the family, but they repay in more ways than one. See to it that good soil is secured, pots are clean, and the plants are well watered, and then a small yet well selected variety will contribute a large share of pleasure to the home during the winter months.

Republican Demonstration.

The quiet of Hallowell was disturbed Monday evening, and a corner in speech-making and Chinese lanterns was the consequence. The Republicans, as represented by their Garfield and Arthur battalions and mounted squads, having secured the services of Speaker Hayes and Hon. B. W. Harris to address the crowd, made that evening a grand demonstration. Out-of-town battalions were invited, and a long march mapped out, the procession parading through the following streets: Franklin, Plymouth, Linfield, Union, Pleasant and Snell, in the following order.

Marchals.

Hallowell Cavalry Co., with torches.

Captain Eugene Snell.

Hallowell Band, 21 pieces.

Hallowell Battalion; H. W. Smith, captain, John Austin 1st lieutenant; Oscar Bates, 2d lieutenant; orderly, S. R. Hodges. Speakers and invited guests, in barouches.

East Weymouth Drum Corps.

East Weymouth Battalion.

Brookton Battalion.

Prof. Boynton, Drum Major.

Simpson Drum Corps, So. Weymouth.

North Abington Battalion.

The marching of the companies was very good, especially that of the Brookton and North Abington boys. Along the line of march the streets presented a lively scene. From Chas. Henry Bell, on Plymouth street, to the Post Office, there were only three houses not illuminated, and to the new church, on the main highway, to Henry Lincoln's, it was one blaze of tallow and gas. Many dwellings looked beautifully, among which were Newton Thayer's, which was decorated lavishly inside as well as out; Everett Holbrook's, whose grounds and landscape gardening were set off by lanterns suspended from tree and shrub; Chas. H. Belcher, Eugene Snell, Edmund White, Newton Lincoln, and many others worthy of note.

The town hall was thrown open, the front being crowded with transparencies of the Presidential candidates, Gen. Garfield and Hancock, the face of the latter shadowed a little, as though portents of a cloudy and stormy time in November.

After the march a collection was served to the paraders. As it was 11 o'clock when the marching ceased, but little speech-making was indulged in. After the parade had come to a final halt a magnificent flag was, with a little appropriate ceremony, flung to the breeze. Much enthusiasm prevailed at this moment, and one individual, whose ardor was manifested in the wrong way, got hustled into the jug.

Politically speaking, it is safe to assert that the march was not out to support Gen. Hancock, but to support the State House a Democratic representative; but evidently this was accomplished by a concerted movement of the Republicans and Democrats to circumvent a certain other little scheme.

The Garfield and Arthur Club, it is rumored (?) will have a flag raising some evening next week, with speeches, torch lights, etc.

Yesterday as Michael Hurley and a companion were driving down Pleasant street, the horse suddenly fell, by coming in contact with a rolling stone, overturning the vehicle and throwing the occupants to the ground, but fortunately they escaped without serious injuries. The carriage was considerably demolished.

Presentation.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Alice Smith was presented with a silver ice-pitcher and goblets by the members of the Lodge of Good Templars. As it was Miss Smith's last meeting with them, there was, of course a large number present, and near the close of the meeting Miss Carrie Littlefield presented the gift with a few well chosen remarks.

Miss Smith responding, thanked the members of the Lodge for the illustration of their love and respect for her, and the lodge closed, and a general good time was enjoyed by all, and at a seasonable hour one and all bid her good by, hoping that she would carry her calls for her future life the memory of those with whom she has passed so many pleasant evenings, and who presented, as a truly beautiful, appropriate and significant article.

Mr. Clement D. Gardner left here for New York last Monday afternoon, for a few weeks' visit, in company with Mrs. Mary Sanson, who has been spending the summer months in this village.

Mr. Geo. W. Young's baggage "Gipsy" has appeared with a new coat of paint and other improvements.

Mr. Jason Gardner, manufacturer for Trill, Clark & Co., of Boston, expects to change his place of business about the first of November.

How many from this village are going to Prof. Gustaf's Dancing School at the Landing this winter?

Lectures.

Lodge 48, K. of H., have made arrangements for a course of lectures, if a suitable place for their delivery can be obtained.

A magnificent iron gray horse, also a bay horse have recently been purchased by Mr. Herbert K. Cushing.

A great multitude of residents of this village, on foot and in carriages, visited Hingham yesterday, to participate in the reception to Gen. Grant. Post S. G. A. R. assembled about 2 o'clock, and proceeded to Hingham in the large passenger carriages, the Post members appearing in 125, and presenting a very fine appearance for the march to the lower depot. The Simpson Drum Corps accompanied the Post.

East Weymouth.

Use Townsend's Veg. Compound for coughs and colds. (Warranted.)

Five.

Saturday morning, about 1 o'clock, when the citizens of this quiet village, were enjoying peaceful slumbers a cry of fire rang out and soon the bell of the Congregational church and the Engine house bell were ringing the dire alarm, which suddenly aroused citizens were hurrying to the scene of the conflagration, which proved to be the barn of Mr. Thos. Orr, located on Middle street. In a comparatively short time after the alarm was sounded, the Gen. Bates Engine Co. and the Eureka Hook & Ladder Co. were on the scene, but their united efforts were of no avail and the building was soon destroyed.

The barn contained five tons of hay, a chest of carpenter tools, a meat wagon, one mowing machine, two horses, harnesses, etc., and a quantity of farming utensils, all of which, with the exception of one of the horses, that was missing, were destroyed. The horse was completely mangled and all harnesses, in a field some distance from the premises.

A rumor is current here that the premises were fired by some one who had a spite against the owner or against Mr. Edward Orr, his son. The latter had been in the meat business but a few days, and had stocked his cart with about 200 worth of meat. He has the sympathy of the community, who regret his misfortune.

The entire loss on the barn, stock, etc., is estimated at $1000, on which there was an insurance of $200 on the barn, and $200 on Mr. Edward Orr's stock of hay, wagon, horse, etc. The insurance was placed with Mr. Joseph Sherman in the Holyoke Mutual.

The fire was first discovered, as we are informed, by Mr. Chas. Cushing, who was returning with his team from Lovell's Corner, and seeing the light of the fire at a distance, proceeded to the barn as quickly as possible and gave the alarm.

Physician's Prescriptions compounded with the care and accuracy which their importance demands, at Townsend's.

The Garfield and Arthur Battalion visited Hallowell last Monday evening, accompanied by the Temple Drum Corps. They were conveyed by Messrs. G. W. Young and H. K. Cushing.

A series of assemblies will be held in Dexter Hall during the fall and winter season, one being given this evening, music by Burrell's Band.

New stock of sponges at Townsend's.

Wedding.

Mr. Patrick Hahnan, clerk at Carroll's manufactory, was united in matrimony last Tuesday afternoon to Miss Mary Curran, the daughter of Mr. J. M. Curran, of the Hallowell Hotel, being tied by Rev. H. P. Smyth, and the happy couple left on the 6 o'clock train for New York via Fall River.

Low Water.

The water in Whitman's Pond is at a lower mark than has ever been noted before, even in the memory of the oldest personage, "one old old inhabitant." The water is dry in every direction, cisterns have collapsed, and Great Pond Water stock is consequently in a booming condition.

There is no use of talking any more. All good judges now agree that the "International" is the best 5 cent cigar to be found anywhere. Try them at Townsend's.

The Weymouth Iron Company are erecting a new barn on the site of the old carpenter shop on Water street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Nichols celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage last Monday. Quite a number of the friends of the family were present and presented the couple with an elegant hanging lamp. The evening was very agreeably spent.

The C. T. A. & L. A. have removed to the hall over Mr. B. Baker's store. We understand that Mr. Baker will be kept there every evening during the week, for members of the society.

The Garfield and Arthur Club, it is rumored (?) will have a flag raising some evening next week, with speeches, torch lights, etc.

South Weymouth.

Almost a Centennial.

As it is now becoming one as anybody knows, was Mr. Caleb Hawes, who died last Friday. The funeral occurred Monday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Mr. Hawes was born in 1787, and was five months and some days over 90 when he died. His long life was an eventful one, and lived in a century full of momentous occurrences. Few there are now who can recollect much about the "War of 1812," but Mr. Hawes served in that brief unpleasantness, and therefore had some reminiscences concerning it. Later in life he followed the sea, making several voyages around the world. In that day this was of no inconsiderable consequence, and the danger greater than now. Twice was shipwrecked, and once suffered heavily for three days. Still later he engaged in packing in connection with Captain Elijah Bates, now deceased, who attained the ripe age of 92 years. Mr. H. has always taken a lively interest in public and political affairs, and has seldom failed to throw his vote even when the weight of years almost bore him down. Until recently he could delight many a listener by the recital of the events of a long and well spent life, and tracing back from this various senility we can easily picture a youth possessed of more than the ordinary capacity, and credit to him a constitution remarkably well cared for that could retain the full use of the faculties almost to the latter days of life's decline.

Paper Route Sold.

The newspaper route, conducted by Edward Nolan, Esq., and owned by Mr. T. F. Nolan, Mr. John Nolan will act as agent as heretofore.

Mr. H. P. Alley has again arrived in town, and has located his photographic car in the old stand opposite Music Hall.

A lady living South Weymouth has cut and dried 12 bushels of apples—twelve when dry—so far this season. That stands for a great many apples on the trees.

Oscar Bates, youngest son of Eli Bates, who was reported as not alive, is now at his home on Randolph street, lying in a very critical condition. Mr. Bates received his injury while attempting to board a horse car at Water street, where he was knocked down, last Friday. He missed his footing by reason of the car suddenly stopping, and was thrown backward. His head struck the pavement, and a dangerous fracture of the skull was the consequence.

At the meeting of the Garfield and Arthur Club, last Saturday evening, it was voted to accept the invitation from Hallowell to attend their demonstration the following Monday evening. Mr. Charles Foster delivered his address at the meeting.

This vicinity is attempting to start a boat. Water pumps—we think, with the sinister design of forestalling all the promised advantages of the W. W. Water.

Saturday, Mr. Seth Curtis, while picking apples, lost his balance and fell to the ground. Mr. C., though somewhat advanced in years, is still agile, and this descent was made without injury. But in the case of Mr. Nath'l Derby, who fell while engaging in the same occupation, it is necessary to state that a leg was broken.

Diphtheria.

Is prevalent in the 4th ward to some extent. Some are kept from school, and the infants terrified accuse one another of being afflicted with the disease, as a pleasant conversation in the playground.

A Garfield and Arthur battalion was organized Wednesday evening at the Reform Club here, under the leadership of Capt. Chas. W. Harris, who was chosen captain of the squad, and fifty uniforms are to be engaged. A week from today (next Friday) there is intended to be a grand Republican rally at Music Hall, and James A. Hall, of Maine, is to address the Republicans of the town. A large time is to be arranged.

Master Willie Nash, only son of Wm. Nash, had a birthday party last evening. The "coming man" was out in full force.

At the gift entertainment, Ashley's, Wednesday evening, Mr. Wm. Lund received the watch. A small crowd was in attendance.

Master Edward Harris is again taken from the depot carriage. Clinton Beals fills his place.

Horseflesh is not like beefsteak—tender and better for pounding.

Thursday morning South Weymouth congregated at the depot, and about half past 9 A. M. the special train conveying Gen. Grant to Plymouth, buzzed through. All there was seen was a pale car with an open platform, a few gentlemen seated there, a cloud of yellow dust, and just a streak of yellow paint, a last gracefully lifted, a vast multitude staring at vacancy—that was all.

Mr. Ellbridge Nash drew an elegant eight day clock at the Brockton G. A. R. Fair. There is a toilet set at Nash's drug store, which some one in Weymouth is entitled to, as No. 19 drew it. The set can be had if the right person calls for it.

B. T.

Frank Beals, of Rockland, says he showed a plate of the largest and fairest Baldwin in the county at the Weymouth Fair, and he does not see how the committee missed seeing him.

J. A. E. Lund took a horse Wednesday last by an attack of colic.

Obituary.

Mr. Henry Vining died at the residence of his father in Hingham Plain last Monday. Mr. Vining has been a great sufferer, having undergone the pain of having a number of cancers removed, and his death was hastened by this last dread disease. She had by her patience gained the friendship of a wide circle while living in this place, and these have sympathized a great deal and administered comfort in every way.

Lectures.

Lodge 48, K. of H., have made arrangements for a course of lectures, if a suitable place for their delivery can be obtained.

A magnificent iron gray horse, also a bay horse have recently been purchased by Mr. Herbert K. Cushing.

A great multitude of residents of this village, on foot and in carriages, visited Hingham yesterday, to participate in the reception to Gen. Grant. Post S. G. A. R. assembled about 2 o'clock, and proceeded to Hingham in the large passenger carriages, the Post members appearing in 125, and presenting a very fine appearance for the march to the lower depot. The Simpson Drum Corps accompanied the Post.

Mr. Frank Derby says that breaking bones is hereditary (?) in his family. Not long ago his father broke his leg; then his mother-in-law, who resides with him, fractured her hip; next his little son fell in Dyer's stable and broke his leg; and now his mother, Mr. Nat. Derby, is similarly afflicted.

P. B.

Lucky escape.

Geo. Grant, (not General) a carpenter working at Reed's shop, fell, yesterday, about 25 feet, the ladder slipping from under him. The fall did but little injury, and work was resumed.

Mr. A. D. F. Hamlin, son of Rev. Dr. Cyrus Hamlin, formerly of Constantinople, will speak at the Union church, on Sunday evening next, upon the Protestant Mission Movement in France.

Mr. Hamlin lately came from Paris, where he has observed and assisted in the workings of this remarkable movement.

A New Lecture Lyceum.

Many of our citizens will be glad to learn that arrangements have been made for a course of popular lectures, to begin the week after Presidential Election, and to close just before New Year. Rev. S. J. Barrows, of Dorchester, formerly private secretary of Hon. Wm. H. Seward, will open the course with "Life on the Plains." Rev. C. B. Rice, of Danvers, member of the State Board of Education, will speak upon "Mechanical Inventions and Labor"—a practical subject of interest especially to the sons of St. Crispin, and to all mechanics. Rev. H. L. Kelsey, of Brockton, will lecture on the stalwart "John Calvin and his times." Rev. G. A. Putnam, of Weymouth, will give personal experiences and observations during "A month in Rome." Rev. C. F. Thwing, of Cambridge, author of "Our American Colleges," and contributor to our best literary magazines, will lecture upon "The Modern Hero." The last lecture will be given by Rev. Geo. N. Marden, whose subject will be the sons of Travel."

M.

A savage man.

A large Newfoundland dog, known for his ferocious disposition, and owned on Broad St., sprang into the buggy of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Goodwin, while they were riding recently. Mr. G. pushed the dog from the carriage, and held him in mid air by the nape of the neck with one hand, while with the other he fished for his pocket-knife to slaughter the beast with; but Mrs. G., fearing a horrible mutilation, persuaded her husband to let the canine go free.

Our Boston Letter.
Boston, Oct. 12th, 1880.
Do come and see me soon. I want to show you my corners!
Thus my friend the other day, on the occasion of a chance street meeting, the invitation was couched in the words and with the emphasis customary between the dear ten thousand friends of that happy sex who have nothing to do but make calls (?) and the customary reply:
"Yes, I will; I have been trying to for so long, but you know just how it is!" was on my lips, when the second clause of my friend's remark struck my attention and changed my answer to "I'll come tomorrow!"
And I went.
"Her corners!" indeed! and pray what might they be? That friend of mine is a most ingenious individual, and combines with a strong love for the beautiful, an exquisite taste in artistic matters and plenty of money, with a rare faculty of gleaning the latest freaks of the fashionable world and putting them into delightful practice.
"Corners?" repeating my first ejaculation on entering the hospitable and elegant little house. "Why, don't you know? But of course, one can not expect any civilized knowledge to repose in the mind of one who has been gallivanting in foreign lands all summer. Corners, my dear, are the latest; they are the rage. A new sort of album on a large scale, you know. Your house is the album and your friends—your dearest friends—only, of course—have each a corner."
"Are you going to set us at the other game of puss, puss?" that is, are you going to put us in corners?
"No, stupid, you put presents, that is, you put in corners. I'll show you." And leading the way into the handsome drawing-room, my hostess soon explained the mystery, quite to my delight. Each corner of the room, including those formed by the chimney recesses, was devoted to some friend, the work of whose dainty fingers, with souvenirs and other little gifts, made the cozy nook beautiful and unique. In one corner is a graceful little stand, the top of which is painted very prettily, and on it stands a tiny case, supposed to be a palette, on which is represented the dials of colors, set in regular order, as if just ready for use by an artist, except that just across the face is painted a peacock's feather. Just above the palette, on the top of the easel, is a real feather, and so perfectly painted is that more than one person has picked it off, thinking it had fallen from his companion above. On the wall over the stand is a plate, on which is painted the daintiest spray of apple-blossoms.
Other corners were similarly individualized with little groupings of taste and art.
"Your corner is in the library," said my friend, and sure enough, there a lovely nook hung the "palette" which I once constructed, not my only "castle d'Espagne," alas! but the only one of whose composition insinuated and bits of red flannel formed the component parts. Other trifles I recognized below the floating castle, and immediately decided that there must be a corner bracket with wrought lambrequin, to complete the spot.
Another friend has a new idea worth mentioning here. She is one who values highly those little souvenirs in the shape of birthday and holiday cards, which are now so prettily gotten up, and of which she has a fine collection, all bearing the names of friends, with dates, etc. She has procured a handsome album, and filled it with these cards, pasting them upon the pages, and as they vary from "grave to gay," from sentiment to humor—some of the funniest things among them—it makes a book well worth looking through, and the idea may be worth remembering.
This reminds me of a book which I made once—sister and I christening it nearly morning of one Christmas night, at work on it with needle and thread, shears and a pile of old Harper's Bazaar, from which we cut the pictures—the comical ones from the last pages and the fine engravings from the double pages, and pasted them upon the pages of an old bound volume of a "fair" paper, which had a handsome cover. This book has filled a good many cracks in conversation since it was made.
Not a bad idea was that of mine before going to Europe last summer. I bought the best pressing-book that excursion places near New York where people flock by the ten thousands in summer; another of a visit to the factory in Meisner, Germany, where such exquisite china is made for the export trade; and collections of Seward, Greeley, Lincoln and Douglas; and papers about camp meetings, in favor of family movements as a social benefit, about the servant girl question; besides other articles. Taking turns at the crib has been a most profitable study for the boys, and application where public officials are about to be nominated.

REV. HENRY ABRAHAM says: "I earnestly believe that the Cry has been a most profitable study for the boys, and application where public officials are about to be nominated."
Great caution should be exercised when purchasing a chance street meeting, the invitation was couched in the words and with the emphasis customary between the dear ten thousand friends of that happy sex who have nothing to do but make calls (?) and the customary reply:
"Yes, I will; I have been trying to for so long, but you know just how it is!" was on my lips, when the second clause of my friend's remark struck my attention and changed my answer to "I'll come tomorrow!"
